To, Whomever it may concern,

Chris Benson, British Passport Number 019244597—has been fully employed, as Head Chef, salary paid, on the 40 Metre Private Motor Yacht “Blue Belle” between march 2003 and March 2005—two years.

During this time he has prepared three meals a day for 7 multinational crew, 7 days a week, 12 months of the year.

For 6 months of each year he has also prepared, 7 days a week, three meals a day for the owner and his guests, whilst the yacht navigates daily to such areas as Croatia, Italy, France, Spain etc etc.

The owner of Blue Belle and his guests are the type of people who can, and have eaten in top restaurants throughout the world, and Chris has prepared for these people, some of the finest, detailed, plates of food, based on various international culinary tastes, to their exact requests.

Chris has proved to be a very competent crew member on a yacht --meaning he has taken watch duties in port for full weekends alone on board, he is fully conversant with all safety aspects such as Fire Fighting, First Aid and emergency procedures at sea. He has shared a cabin in confined quarters, without fuss or complaint ever.

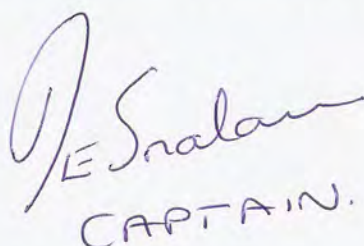

The hours of work are not even a question this man worries about—he is never late for work, he never complains or makes a face, after 15 or 16 hours daily seven days a week, standing in the same galley. He is always perfectly honest and precise with the money in his hand for shopping, he helps all the other crew around him to have a good day and is quite an exceptional person in this respect.

He leaves this yacht of his own accord, without a problem or complication—just of his own accord to try to find another challenge. I, as Captain on quite a few Motor and Charter Yachts so far in the last twenty years, have worked with many cooks, chefs, etc and not many live up to the professionalism, excellent character and impressive flexibility as a crew member on a yacht as does Chris Benson.

If any future employer requires an honest, hardworking, pleasant, quality Chef, then you will have difficulty finding better than Chris Benson.
